DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 13-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kapoor (U.S. Patent No. 5,698,468).

Kapoor discloses a method of forming a dielectric layer in figures 1A-3 and on columns 1-6. Specifically, Kapoor discloses forming an oxide layer 222 on a surface of a substrate 210 in figure 2A, forming a metal layer 242 over the oxide layer 222 in figure 2B, and reacting at least a first portion of the metal layer 242 with the oxide layer 222. Kapoor discloses annealing the structure so that the metal layer 242 reacts with the substrate and the gate to form silicide layers 230,232,234. Though not explicitly disclosed, it is nonetheless inherently understood that at least a first portion of the metal layer 242 over the oxide layer 222 will react with the oxide layer. In the instant application, a metal such as hafnium or zirconium is formed over a silicon oxide region and heated to above 600 degrees Celsius to react the metal with the oxide. Kapoor discloses the same metal such as hafnium or zirconium (column 3 lines 55-60) formed over the silicon oxide and heating to above 600 degrees Celsius (column 3 lines 60-67).

Art Unit: 2815

Thus, Kapoor performs the same heating process on the same material layers as in the instant invention and would result in the same reaction as in the instant invention.

With regard to claim 14, Kapoor further disclose reacting a second portion of the metal layer with an oxidizing ambient (column 4 lines 8-24).

With regard to claim 15, the reacting at least a first portion of the metal layer with the oxide layer comprises heating to a temperature greater than approximately 600 degrees Celsius (column 3 lines 60-67).

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Art Unit: 2815

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claims 13 and 15 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-5 of U.S. Patent No. 6,689,702. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claims 1-5 of U.S. Patent No. 6,689,702 include all the limitations of claim 13 and thus anticipate claim 13. Claim 15 is not patentably distinct from claims 1-5 of U.S. Patent No. 6,689,702 because it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to react the layers by heating to a temperature greater than approximately 600 degrees Celsius.
